NEGRO DIGEST, published in the August issue of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, Inc., Chicago, Ill., to spend some time visiting the home of his new status when his health was severely compromised. He was the first black to hold a similar position in the House of Representatives.

The Rank and File of the National Committee of Human Rights, a group dedicated to the advancement of civil rights, was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Byrd of Bradford, Pa. The couple, along with their daughter, attended the conference and shared their experiences as one of the few African American families in the region.

The conference was held in Chicago, Illinois, and attended by various civil rights leaders, activists, and community organizers. The attendees discussed strategies for combating discrimination and working towards equality and justice for all.

Upon returning to their home in Pennsylvania, the Byrds continued their work in the community, advocating for the rights of African Americans and promoting understanding and cooperation among all races.

"This cola tastes best!"

says SISTER THARPE

Sister Tharpe's clues for chasing the blues... Here's how Sister Tharpe chose the blue: When it's time to rest, she enjoys a frosty bottle of Royal Crown Cola! In the famous cola taste-test one lucky day, she decided on the beverage, purchased and voted Royal Crown Cola best-tasting of all! She says, "It gives me a lift and a real fresh start!" Try it yourself.
