"EXPOSE" of 2 "OPERATIONS" to attain similar goals

"Operation Grassroots" the manner in which that has been put forth by the Frederick Douglass Non-Violent Committee and the recently expanded "Operation Outreach" sponsored jointly by the Council of Social Agencies under the direction of John Tarbox and the State Youth Commission under the direction of William Bub.

Considering the high cost of printing and the valuable space in this publication, the time and effort involved, the great deal of innuendo from the men and women who direct these agencies and the refusal to face up to statements made in the press by leaders of government, social and civic organizations - all these have convinced us that further protest will avail nothing and we have gradually come to the conclusion, based on the facts that a multi-million dollar combine exists in this community and it appears to be crystal clear that these people have chosen their Uncle Toms to do their dirty work.

In a recent conference with Mr. John Tarbox, president of the Mon- tgomery Center Board of Directors, it was stated to the publisher of this paper that at a Seminar held at the University of Syracuse, an appraisal was made of conditions in the southwest area, centering on the Third Ward. It was noted that social disorganization has taken its toll over the years and as a result, the participants of the Seminar, after analyzing the situation came up with a plan known as "Operation Outreach" and asked a Negro person to head the program. And it was also mentioned that this project will enable Mr. William Bub to complete work on his Master's Degree at Syracuse University! Once again, the black man is being used as a "guinea pig" to prove the superiority of the white man. The end thing is that many young men and women of the black race already working in that field who have acquired their degrees through hard work and much sacrifice, have been passed over or relegated to secondary roles. This was all done with finesse, much fandue, in a subtle manner by people with big names and impeccable characters - people who hold the purse strings - aided and abetted by the local press (Democratic & Chronicle - Times-Union) who since April of 1962 have sabotaged and buried alive "Operation Grassroots" by failing to publish the surveys that were handed to Mr. Cliff Carpenter at that time. These same newspapers have just received the Pulitzer Prize for outstanding journalism - yet have continued to ignore the programs offered to the people by "Operation Grassroots".

In conclusion, we would point out to our readers those editors and reporters who were particularly biased in the dissemination of this news: Norris Vagg of the Times-Union, Vernon Croop of the Democrat and Chronicle, Alan Newhart, general manager of the Gannett Papers; the reporters Cliff Smith, Bill Vogler, Desmond Stone and Jean Utter.

The reader may wonder what is plain language, this is all about. The explanation could be given in just one line - that whenever a black man or woman in this community comes up with an idea that has real merit, he or she is never given an opportunity to put it into action, for it must be done the "Rochester" way; that is, Caucasians must direct it and Uncle Toms must be subservient.

NOTE: Anyone wanting information on "Operation Grassroots" when it came into existence, why it wasn't supported by the Youth Board, the Council of Social Agencies under the direction of Kenneth Sterand and the Board of Supervisors, we suggest they write county manager Gordon A. Hove, to whom the details were explained and who met frequently with the members of the Frederick Douglass League Non-Violent Committee, who formulated the plan.

OPERATION: GRASS ROOTS

Organizing the Unorganized.....to Meet the Demands & Needs of the Needy -- This is our record of service to the public since its founding in February 1889.

The Frederick Douglass League Non-Violent Committee is a local autonomous civil rights group. It was founded during the month of February, the year 1889. The leaders in this movement were John W. Thompson, Clarence Leggett, John W. Gilmour, Col. Nathan Pond (founder of the Union Advertiser) and the Hon. Frederick Douglass, leader and originator of the PROTEST MOVEMENT in the U.S.

We were formerly located at 16 State Street, we have recently opened our new headquarters at 567-569 Plymouth Ave. S. We are continuing to operate OPERATION GRASSROOTS. INFORMATION AND COORDINATING CENTER AND THE FREDERICK DOUGLASS OPPORTUNITY SHOP at this address.

The merchandise in the Frederick Douglass Opportunity Shop at the above address is donated by the liberal minded people of Rochester and is called for upon request of the donor (or you may leave same at the shop in person). Proceeds from the sale of used merchandise, enables the Frederick Douglass League Non-Violent Committee to sponsor outstanding projects which benefit the community as a whole. This organization is operated by our council of co-chairman and is supported by the general membership. Our city-wide membership campaign is now under way. For further information attend our public meetings every Monday night at 8:00 p.m.

"OPERATION GRASSROOTS".... A Master Plan and Pilot project started the ball rolling in securing hundreds of Jobs for the black men and women in the downtown area and in local factories. Introduced the study of Negro History in our schools, set up apprenticeship programs, established reading and writing classes for those who could not read and write, carried the fight for black men and women to have the right to enter the U. of R. Medical School. Recently this organization has established the John F. Kennedy Scholarship Fund for the worthy young men and women of the Black Race, clean block campaigns, etc.

Do you often see people milling around buildings such as boys and girls who hang around school grounds before and after school hours? Do you wonder what it is that makes this breed of people tick? Are you irritated when you see the senseless behavior of these loiterers? If you are, you have every right to be!

Adults, as well as boys and girls, don't seem to get the idea of coming and leaving on time. Women stand around in beauty parlors and talk, talk, talk! Men take up customer space in barber shops just hanging around talking. Then there's the teen with the bad habit of hanging around school grounds or standing around the halls. If you put all of these people in one large hall they would hang out the doors. These small groups soon grow into mobs whose only purpose is to hang around and talk. Often policemen on patrol in the area see these groups standing on corners and feel that they are bound to cause trouble. The hangers on are usually talking so loud, trying to get a point across, that the officer thinks it is an argument. This type of behavior around schools, in bars and at teen age centers often attracts policemen because with the noise and crowds it's natural to expect trouble.

Is there a solution to the problem of "hang arounds"? You can tell them to move on, but no doubt they'll probably just move to another corner. When you see a group of your friends standing around chatting, instead of adding to the noise and confusion, just pass by and say, "Talk to you later," "I have something more important to do". They might take the hint and follow suit by remembering that they have something to do also. The "hang arounds" can be abolished, but only if each one of us does his share. Remember, "DON'T BE A LOITER BUG!"

THE BIG BATTLE

The joint project of the Human Relations Commission, Council of Social Agencies Montgomery Neighborhood Center and New York State Employment Service, set up at Montgomery Neighborhood Center, is an attempt to get at the reasons for unemployment and to uncover the basic skills that might be upgraded through training. Three or four interviewers will be working, not only with a view to job opportunities but also at getting data that will lead to courses of upgrading. Ultimately the project will probably tie up with the community's Youth Training Program, but it also would serve adults. Sponsors see the new program as a three-pronged operation of counseling, remedial training and specific job training.

The Council is also actively involved on the Planning Committee of the Youth Training Project which is a collaborative effort of the State Employment Service and Board of Education in conjunction with the Manpower Development Training Act. About 9,000 unemployed young people, 2 million dollars and over a year's time will be involved in the largest project of its kind ever undertaken here.

ANYTHING NEW?

Within the last few months three major new projects have taken shape in the community -- the Youth Employment Project, Personalized Service Bureau (serving mostly the handicapped and the elderly) and the Neighborhood Organization Project at Montgomery Neighborhood Center and the Third Ward. The groundwork for all of them has been shared in the Council of Social Agencies, though the setting up and operation falls to the many agencies directly involved. Planning, lately, has been a hard-driving occupation -- but with results.

A GOLDBERG EXCLUSIVE

Superintendent of Schools, Herman R. Goldberg, will make one report to the community on what has happened through the last school year in the vigorous and sometimes tumultuous fight against racial imbalance in the schools. That report will be given to the Delegate Assembly of the Council of Social Agencies June 4. It was at the Assembly last Fall that he explained the plans for the program. The meeting will be opened to all who make their reservations in advance of the date.

THE TIME TO SPEAK

The Council, immersed in its self-study, is asking member agencies for their opinion of the Council -- its purposes, structure, functioning, and place in the community. The opinion of the staff, agency board and the specially appointed Evaluation Committee will be welded in the final analysis. It is hoped the study will be completed this year. The staff, for its part, has been brainstorming in weekly sessions for two months.

THE TEST

Thousands of Rochesterians (hopefully 90 per cent of the population) will be asked to sign cards in favor of open occupancy, or non-segregation in housing. The signature campaign will be launched at the annual meeting of the Human Relations Commission in the Chamber of Commerce April 20 when Dr. Philip M. Hauser of the University of Chicago will speak. He is an authority on population characteristics and mobility. The participation of all religious congregations will be sought in the drive to place the population on record in favor of the practice of democratic principles.

A NAME ANYONE?

A new kind of caseworker will be attempting to deal with the hard-to-reach-family problem if plans now under discussion are developed. The Family-Children's Division reports that a number of groups favor a kind of "general practitioner" social worker who can offer all the types of service now given separately by welfare worker, school worker and counseling worker. The plan has the advantage of simplification, continuity, etc., in client-worker relations. It differs from the diagnostic team proposal made several years ago by the Youth Board in that it develops a "Family Friend" idea. Both Family Friends and Community Caseworker have been suggested as names, but a search is on for just the right one. It is thought the Ward Board will be a good starting place for the project. Groups cooperating are the Youth Board, the Family-Children's Division's Ad Hoc Committee on Public and Private Agency Cooperation, and the City School District's Attendance Department.

Moving toward Midtown

Information-Referral services of the Council may be heading uptown soon and possibly to the Midtown Plaza. Such a step has been approved by the In-Service Consultative Committee and now the proposal goes to the Council Board. Both the Family-Children’s and Health Divisions requested the more centralized location, and some time it has been under consideration. It would probably be operated by a combination of volunteer and professional staff.

Seniors Citizen CAMPGAP

A five-day camping trip to the Watson homestead at Painted Post is being planned by senior citizens of Monroe County. The camp was created by the famous industrialist, Thomas J. Watson, in memory of his parents as a religious and educational center for rest and recreation. There is talk of inviting the local group to return a period either in July or August and engaging Gertrude Litchie, experienced camping director who is now retired, in setting up this project.

On the Verge

About to take the plunge into the annual Chest budgeting sessions, the Council is clearing the decks. Directors are engaged in budgets and the Volunteer Bureau in the activities of the speakers’ division. New this year is a junior speakers’ group, recruited among talented students of high schools.

A Settlement in Revolution

While engaged in the new “operation, outreach” and other projects described in last issue of the Roundtable, Montgomery Neighborhood Center is also under review. It is set to go by a current self-study. On April 27-28 Miss Margaret Henry of New York, director of the National Federation of Settlements in New York, director of the National Federation of Settlements, will be here to meet with each of the governing groups, including persons who have grown up in the area.

Helen Weston is leaving

The search is on for a successor to Miss Helen Weston, director of Information-Service and Central Index, who has given reasons of health for quitting. The search is being made by the In-Service Consultative Committee and now the proposal goes to the Council Board.

A look-see special

Recreation Division will ask the City of Rochester to arrange a tour of recreation facilities to be selected by social workers from social agencies, press, radio, television and community at large to see what a recreation field of the future is going to look like. The tour is related to recommendations of the 1959 Citizens Committee. In other words: What has happened?

Something new -- a board

After all those years, all intents and purposes with which the Genesee Settlement had set up a Board of Directors, consisting of 22 members, the agency, sponsored by the Catholic Diocese, will have Catholics and non-Catholics in the governing group, including people who have grown up in the area.

RESULTS FROM A PLEA

Through the good offices of Certified Insurance Life Underwriters, Miss Weston has been given a list of those who will volunteer to counsel older persons who don’t know what to do about their insurance policies. The need for such assistance was pointed out in a recent newspaper article about many inquiries from retired persons who need advice from disinterested but knowledgeable sources. It seems many older people find themselves with a hodgepodge of insurance policies and the question of what to do when the policies reach maturity and how to adopt a sensible insurance program. The underwriters’ group responded to the newspaper story.

ANOTHER JACKPOT

Newspaper articles by Earl Caldwell, Democrat and Chronicle reporter, on the need for volunteers, and particularly drivers, produced 176 volunteers for various types of work and a potential 200 volunteer drivers from one organization (a Jewish temple group) plus seven individual drivers. The Volunteer Bureau was astonished, in view of difficulties lately in meeting many of the requests for help, and enormously encouraged. Meanwhile, the Service to the Homebound Committee, which is now devoting all its effort to providing transportation to doctors’ offices, plus therapy classes and on other essential errands, reported that it arranged over 500 rides in the last year.

SELF-EVALUATION

Central Index is canvassing member users to find out how essential the Index is to them and whether they use it for special categories or for all categories of their respective case loads. They are being asked if they favor continuance, whether their work would be adversely affected if the Index were not continued and for figures on the extent to which the Index is used. Replies, so far, indicate that the Index is needed and is on the right track. One agency only would dispense with it.

THE RIGHT TRACK

When a Negro organization frankly admits that there is a racial problem existing in Rochester and the Rochester area and then places the blame where it belongs, it certainly gains its point, not only for its frankness, but for its efforts in trying to bring about better relations between white and non-whites of the community.

Such an organization is the Monroe County Greater Coordinating Center, headed by Howard W. Coles, Willie Campbell and Robert Johnsor, as co-chairman. This trio has prepared a plan that we outlined in the last issue of WE to wipe out the racial problem here.

Howard and his colleagues pull no punches in discussing their plan. They want to erase entirely from the local scene the problems that cause many white people to fear, not only the colored people who came to Rochester from the South, but all Negroes they do not know personally.

In a news release to the press last year, a news release that was not used for some reason or other, the Monroe County Greater Coordinating Center had this to say in its preamble:

“For the past two years this plan has been in the meeting, talk- ing and investigative stage. A series of meetings has been held with Gorden A. How, County Manager, and other state, county and city leaders to determine the availability of funds. We discovered that there are no funds from any governmental agencies, nor have there been since the Lanham Act of World War II.

“The Citizens Coordinating Committee believes that this plan is not especially a master plan. However, this plan DOES recognize the source of the disease, diagnose the sympt-oms, concede that the disease is all too chronic and contagious and admits, regretfully, that as the thera- meter rises, the condition will erupt with even greater speed and violence than previously.

“This position is endorsed by the signatures of some 3,000 citizens at the grass roots level, repres-entative of the city and county as a whole.

“Enclosed herewith is an organi- zational chart which we feel is self-explanatory as to the details of the plan. We have also enclosed a map of the areas in which migratory workers are found, since it is from this source that the people will - and for - whom this plan is proposed.”

That plan proposed by the Monroe County Greater Coordinating Center makes unnecessary the plan we outlined in the last issue of WE. All we can do now is support the Center’s plan and hope for its success.

According to the news release the Coordinating Center would be the focal point from which activities to improve the lot of migrants would be directed and through which affiliations with the various city and county and state agencies would be contacted. “We feel it is impera- tive that the newcomer to the area should be made with concrete plans,” the news release states, “for his well-being in the areas of (1) Hous- ing, (2) Employment, (3) Religious Affiliation, and (4) Education. Ori- entation should be started imme- diately, acquainting them with all the facilities at their disposal.

“Because Rochester is a city of highly specialized skills and a lack of heavy industry, and because the average new arrival posses few of the necessary skills, he becomes a ‘marginal’ worker (which is to say that he works about seven months of the year and draws unemployment insurance the remaining five). His must, therefore, be orientated at once to this society before he becomes involved with the law, a burden of welfare, or falls prey to the ‘easy money’ operators. (Note: A careful study has provided the information that on Monday and Tuesday mornings in the city court, some 65 to 70 percent of all cases heard involve new arrivals to the city. It might be worth noting, how- ever, that when a Negro is sum- moned for jury duty, the vast ma- jority try to be excused - this is)

PEOPLE ARE MOST IMPORTANT

Almost all of the troubles we have today are caused by People. All of our happiness comes from the same source—People.

We in the RG&E are conscious of this because in the final analysis People are involved in everything we sell. Our Company provides energy for the community. But no one can use a kilowatt hour by itself or a cubic foot of gas. Energy is only useful when it performs a service. Our product then, is Service.

We have a booklet which we give to each of our new customers. It tells about RG&E's services. It has lots of interesting information in it—how to change a fuse; how to read your own meters; what to do in case of trouble; how to identify RG&E employees. All this and a lot more. The name of the pamphlet is "Always at your Service."

We are here to serve you. To see not only that you have all the gas and electricity you want, when you want it, but also to show you how best to use this energy. If you'd like a copy of this booklet "Always at your Service" you'll find one waiting for you at any RG&E office.
