From FREDERICK DOUGLASS... "I look upon all complexion discriminations, such as Negro berths on steamboats, Negro cars, Sabbath or week-day schools or churches, etc., as direct obstacles to the progress of reform and as a means of continuing the slave in his chains."

From the 'Cradle of Freedom'... by Howard W. Coles... Published by The Oxford Press

Dear Mr. Coles:

I was pleased to receive your letter of March 6th regarding the Frederic Douglass exhibit we are planning to have on display at the University of Rochester. You may be aware that I am currently abroad in England, and that I have not had an opportunity to read your letter until now.

I understand that you have written to Provost Robert France of the University of Rochester about the Frederic Douglass exhibit we are planning to have. At present, we plan to exhibit a large number of original letters written by Frederic Douglass when he was in Rochester and in Washington, D.C. We also are planning to display books by and about Douglass, excerpts from some of his speeches, newspaper clippings, pamphlets and photographs. The bust of Douglass already is on display in the foyer of Rush Rhees Library.

What we really should like to exhibit, but what we lack, is a copy of Douglass' newspaper which we have in microfilm from only. If you have any items which you think would be appropriate, and especially, if you have a copy of his newspaper, we would be glad to discuss their display if you could phone or visit us.

THE ROCHESTER VOICE

A TRIBUTE TO FREDERICK DOUGLASS

It is altogether fitting that particular tribute be paid to New York State, the Nation and the world in the memory and achievements of Frederick Douglass, since it was in this city that the great man began his school, which was the first in the state to teach colored children. His height was inspired to earn the work to which he devoted his life. The story of his life was a model to the world. In 1851 he was in the city of Rochester, where he was attending the city's first public school. He was a great man, a great man of the time. His legacy endures today, a legacy that continues to inspire and challenge us all.

OF THE MAYOR

January 16, 1967

You are cordially invited to join us, Deputy City Manager and Administration of Urban Renewal, William F. Damm, and other City officials at the formal opening of the Madison Area Housing Project at 570 Jefferson Avenue on Tuesday, January 17, 1967, at 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

We are aware of our obligation to the general improvement and beautification of the City and are pleased to announce the formal opening of the Madison Area Housing Project. This project is bounded generally by East Avenue, Matthew Avenue, North Street, and Sanborn Street.

Unlike urban renewal projects, a neighborhood improvement program has no major clearances but involves concentrated enforcement of City codes. Structures, however, will be demolished if they are judged to be beyond repair to minimum code standards. The City will also use resources under the Housing Act of 1965.

February 6, 1967

The formal opening of the Madison Area Housing Project is being underwritten by the City of Rochester. The Madison Area Housing Project is bounded generally by East Avenue, Matthew Avenue, North Street, and Sanborn Street. The 780 acre Madison Area Housing Project is located in the western part of this great State - where so much pioneer work has been done to make ours a real, live, working democracy. It is rather significant that in the state of New York - the people are served by officials appointed and elected because of their ability and without regard to their race, color, or political affiliation. New York and the United States are the champion of the Anti- Discrimination Act which has fulfilled all the hopes entertained for it when it was passed and aligned.

Dear Friends:

Last November saw our Congressional District voters make it possible for me to continue to serve as your Congressman in the House of Representatives. I look back on those two years, and I am grateful that you gave me the opportunity, and I shall continue to try to find ways to improve the way we conduct the business of the US Congress, which is the lifeblood of this country.

The Senate, which is the upper house of the Congress and is the one where many people are elected to sit as if they already belonged to a神圣的区域。This is not necessarily so, and the Senate's actual influence is unduly magnified by the wide publicity given to popular Senators. The Senate is an exclusive club of the most experienced and experienced political leaders, not by any means, still has quite a head start on any legislators who are new to the Congress. And the Senate has made considerable comment about the conservative coalition taking over the control of the Congress, a formal arrangement between Republican and Southern Democrats to keep liberal legislation at bay. If this were literally so, Congressman Gerry Ford would be Speaker rather than Majority Leader. In the weeks that have been taken on this legislation, the Administration has made it clear where it was in a weak position or where the Democratic leadership was out of touch with the mood and the state of the country.

I feel certain that the Republican Party can and will be able to weather this storm. As we know, the President has not been able to do much with the Republican Party's plans for the future, and reports that the Great Society is now dead. The newspapers have made much of the Powell case. I feel certain that the attitude towards the Powell case is more important than in any other national political. With the retirement this year of 10 members of the House, and the replacement of their seats by new members, the House will be much more diverse, and the influence of the conservative coalition will be much less.

With the retirement this year of 10 members of the House, and the replacement of their seats by new members, the House will be much more diverse, and the influence of the conservative coalition will be much less.

The Speaker of the House, the Majority Leader, and the minority leaders are all new to the House, and the members of the House will be much more diverse, and the influence of the conservative coalition will be much less.

ROCHESTER VOICE, in my own person, to tender my sincerest and hearty congratulations on the are of your observance of Negro History Week, in which I continue to participate, and during which time one of your ablest citizens, Hon. George Washington Carver, was born.

He was a true American and a true Negro. He was the first Negro to be granted a Ph.D. by an American university. He was a man of great ability and great achievement.

We are all grateful to him for his contributions to science, agriculture, and education. He was a man of vision and a man of action. He was a man who believed in education and in the power of knowledge to change lives.

His work with the sweet potato and the cotton was truly remarkable. He showed how black people could be successful, and how they could help others.

We are all grateful to him for his contributions to science, agriculture, and education. He was a man of vision and a man of action. He was a man who believed in education and in the power of knowledge to change lives.

Upward Canable
Rep. Barbara S. Canable's appointment to the prestigious House Ways and Means Committee is a signal honor to a second-term congresswoman. It is a clear indication of her good works and constituent service, as well as a recognition of the national importance of the work she is about to undertake.

Rochester Chamber Orchestra
The Rochester Chamber Orchestra will present its second concert of the 1967 season on Sunday, February 11, in the劣he Central Auditorium at 3:00 p.m. A diversified repertoire of temporary music will be performed by these 28 talented musicians, under the direction of Dr. David Vater.

Douglass Stamp
On Feb. 14 the memory of an American and Rochesterian will be honored in the issuance of a new 3-cent stamp. This is a well deserved if not the least of the Batavian's well-deserved tributes to Frederick Douglass, one of the most eloquent and influential of Negro editors, diplomats and public officials. He was born on Feb. 14, 1817.
