Dear Joe:

I hope that in the future we can agree that the word "business as usual" is not a most appropriate expression of what turned out to be a most productive meeting. In reviewing our findings, it seems that we have managed to do two things: to have a real discussion of problems relating to the core of our business, and that it was necessary to remove some people.

I agree with you that merely a technicality and he would have no right to sign a check. Apparently Dr. Hurtley had no right to sign a check, and consisted of his proposal writing expert and will have the money to do it. Mr. Coles reiterated his objection to Mr. Jones signing a check, and that it was necessary to remove the bank for the checks to be turned over to the center when the status as a corporation in the past has a report for 1969-71, but none has been obtained. Mrs. Coles asked: Who was the treasurer of the Center. The Publisher, is now the front and back of the building. Mrs. Davis commented that she is here to make this possible. The discussion ended with Dr. Davis asking "What is the money to be used for?"

WESTERN NEW YORK OPERATION BREADBASKET 635-49 Hafen Avenue
Rochester, New York 14605

Dear Black Businessmen:

This letter is to inform you of a very important meeting of the businessmen of the WESTERN NEW YORK OPERATION BREADBASKET, to be held on Monday, April 24, 1972, at 7:30 P.M. The meeting will take place at 483 Hudson Avenue (next door to the Rochester SCLC office).

Brothers, I need not stress the importance of your presence at this meeting. There is plenty of business to discuss and take care of.

If you are unable to attend this meeting, please contact our office prior to the meeting date.

Thank you. I am, Yours in Peace, PERMAN ADAMS, JR. Acting Executive Director

PIECKET LINES AGAINST THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY (A&P), THE SECOND LARGEST MERCHANTER IN THE UNITED STATES, WHO LIVES OFF OF THE POOR!!!

We are proud to announce that the ROCHESTER AREA MINISTERS CONFERENCE has endorsed the Rochester Southern Christian Leadership Conference’s OPERATION BREADBASKET and pledge its support through their congregations. This support came in their regularly scheduled meeting on last Thursday, April 20, 1972, at the Amos Baptist Church.

The picket lines will be continued at the A&P locations on the schedules of OPERATION BREADBASKET. Since 1969, A&P has been "taking off" consumers in all minority communities WHOEVER A&P Stores are located a significant proportion of the wealth gleaned as profits from that community should be returned to the community through salaries, service advertising, black banking or trust funds, for economic development and housing development, etc. and quality, of the net effect is STARVATION through EXPLOITATION.

A&P gains higher profits from the very people it "feeds"—thus the "Taking off" campaign. A&P "feeds" consumers in all minority communities.

The picket lines will be continued at the A&P locations on the schedules of OPERATION BREADBASKET.
"How do you know when you've gotten through to a boy?
You don't.
You just hope, and keep on working."

CHRIS SADLER

On my honor, I will do my best,
to do my duty to God and my country...
So begins the Boy Scout oath.
And so begins a boy’s attitude toward life. For what he learns through Scouting may very well determine his outlook from here on out.
It is the job of the Scoutmaster to help a youngster establish a healthy and well-balanced attitude toward his friends, his elders and himself.
And you never know if you’ve been entirely successful.

A banker who jumps creeks.
Maybe the image of a banker is not one in which he tramps through woods, cooks over an open fire, and jumps creeks. But that’s precisely how you will find Chris Sadler of Lincoln Rochester’s Trust Department spending much of his free time. “Sure, I spend a lot of time with my boys,” says Chris, “and the bank has been great. I wish all companies would encourage their people in this kind of involvement. I think it is a good thing for the company. And I know it is a good thing for the employee.”

An appreciation for the outdoors.
Because fun and companionship is what scouting is all about, outings are important to all the boys.
They will learn about weather warnings from cloud formations, how to start a fire without matches, and how to care for someone with first aid. They learn about ecology, too. How to protect nature, and how to enjoy the outdoors.
And without even realizing it, Scouting is building character, providing the groundwork for good citizenship and helping the boy become physically and mentally fit.

Keep the kids involved. Get the parents involved.
Luckily, there are people like Lincoln Rochester’s Chris Sadler. Scoutmaster of Troop 246 of St. Monica’s.
Chris and his associates spend many hours each and every week in preparing programs for the eleven to fourteen-year-olds for the sole purpose of keeping them interested, and the parents involved, in the Boy Scout program. “It’s a lot of work,” says Chris, “but the rewards are great.”

If you would like to help someone, let Lincoln Rochester help you. Let us help you match your talents and interests with the needs of our community.
If you’d like to volunteer for anything, call or write Mr. Donald Burgan, Director of the Community Affairs Department, Lincoln Rochester Trust Company, P.O. Box 820, Rochester, N.Y. 14603, 322-4427.
Or, if you’d like more information on the precise needs of 150 different organizations in Monroe County, ask Mr. Burgan to send you a booklet, published by the Voluntary Action Center of the Citizens Planning Council, and called “1972 Volunteer Opportunities.”
It describes the kind of skills needed... everything from teaching handicapped kids, to driving wheel chair patients to their doctors. Remember, you are needed.

Rochester’s a good place now. Let’s work together to make it better.

RIT Student Grants Experience At Kodak

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — For Student Michel, a senior at Rochester Institute of Technology, his first job experience was not only rewarding, but also a valuable learning experience. His work at Kodak was not just about photography, but also about building valuable life skills.

Not only did Michel gain valuable work experience, but he also had the opportunity to work in a competitive industry and learn about the business side of photography. This experience will undoubtedly benefit him in his future career.

During his time at Kodak, Michel learned about the different aspects of photography and gained valuable hands-on experience. This will help him in his future career as a photographer, where he can apply his knowledge and skills.

Overall, this experience was a valuable learning opportunity for Michel. It has provided him with valuable skills and knowledge that he can use in his future career. Michel is grateful for this opportunity and looks forward to applying what he has learned in the future.

In the end, this experience has shown the importance of gaining real-world experience early on in life. This will undoubtedly benefit Michel in his future career and provide him with a solid foundation to build upon.
