Action For A Better Community, Inc.

June 14, 1973

Frederick Douglass League
50 Plymouth Avenue South
n e, Mr. Howard Coves
Rochester, N.Y. 14601

Dear Mr. Coves:

"U.S. District Court Judge William J. Jones issued an order barring (Howard J.) Phillips from taking any further action as director of the antipoverty agency (ORA). Most of Phillips's actions as acting head of OBO have been directed toward dismantling the agency in accordance with orders from the President."

... excerpts from D&C, 6/12/73

"This ruling, while favorable has come too late to save many CAA's. Others, like ABC, are still operating and have become stronger for the challenge put to them. Action for a Better Community, Inc. will not close its doors, but it will need greater support, participation, and commitment from the Rochester and Monroe County community in order to continue."

At present, reorganization plans are under way which will result in Board/Committee restructure and redirection of staff. We are enthusiastic about this new change, but we need your help and commitment to succeed.

It is time again to ask you to appoint a representative from your organization to serve on our Board of Directors -- one who will be willing to work hard and lend assistance as we enter a new and uncertain year.

Poverty is still with us; it is compounded by present-day inflation and unemployment. ABC cannot close its doors now. Rochester and Monroe County, both the poor and non-poor, need ABC more than ever now.

Please send us the name(s) of your representative(s) who will be able to devote time and energy to the hard work ahead. Our Annual Dinner is scheduled for the latter part of July. We would like to have the name and address of your representative as quickly as possible so that we can send him an invitation.

Sincerely yours,

M. Harris, Jr.
President
Board of Directors

ROCHESTER-CITY MANAGER-COMMUNITY SIGN PACT ON HOW TO PROCESS FEDERAL GRANTS

ROCHESTER, N.Y.-- Representatives of 21 community organizations have signed an agreement with City Manager Kermit E. Hill on procedures for handling $150 million worth of federal grants which come into Rochester every year.

Sharon Price, Chairperson of the Citizen Participation Review Committee (CPRC), Hill and Paul M. Gratto, Director of Federal Program Review, signed a Memorandum of Understanding last week which will govern the relationship between the CPRC and the City Manager as they review all applications for federal funds.

Mr. Price and Hill hailed the agreement as an "excellent example of cooperation between City Hall and community organizations in an effort to make the well-being of this city. In recent years, local governments have found it increasingly difficult to find local tax resources to tackle new and complex problems and they have had to depend more and more upon federal financing. This year more than $150 million came to Rochester from Washington for a wide assortment of programs. It is only right therefore that citizen groups and City Hall work together to set priorities and make sure that those funds are going to those areas where they are most needed and will do the most good. This agreement establishes the basis for that joint effort.

The CPRC was formed last August as part of the City's Planned Variations Program which was established with federal funds to enable the City Manager to review and comment on all federal programs affecting the City.

The agreement sets forth the procedures by which the CPRC will work with the City Manager and the Office of Federal Program Review (CERC) in City Hall. It covers the review of applications for federal funds, the assistance and services CPRC will provide the citizens committee and the meetings between Hill and CPRC.

Hill said the Committee has been effective in building a basis for meaningful involvement in the federal program review. The agreement was developed as a result of the experiences during the first few months, and reflects a level of sophistication in citizen participation found in few cities.

Mrs. Ridley Retires

Mrs. Letha Ridley, principal of Henry Lamb School No. 20, 54 Oakman St., will end 14 years of service with the Rochester City School District this June.

Born in Greenville, Tenn., raised in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, Mrs. Ridley received her B.S. degree and certification in mathematics and science from Shaw University. Continuing her education at Winston-Salem Teachers College, Mrs. Ridley earned North Carolina certification in elementary education, and spent 10 years in the Winston-Salem school system as a classroom teacher.

In 1944, Mrs. Ridley, her husband, William, and their four-month-old son moved to Rochester so that Mr. Ridley could fulfill military obligations. Mrs. Ridley began employment with City School District in 1948 at Andrews School No. 9 as a substitute teacher. She remained there until 1955, teaching regular and special education classes.

In 1950 Mrs. Ridley was one of three selected to start a new helping teacher program, traveling by bus to Schools No. 3, 5, 7, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 17, 19, 20, 22, 23, 28, 36, and 40. While working as an itinerant teacher for three years, Mrs. Ridley was recognized by school officials as "representative of the best in the teaching profession." In 1968 she returned to the classroom for one year at School No. 19.

In 1958 she returned to the classroom for one year at School No. 19. In 1959, Mrs. Ridley became supervising teacher, became assistant principal in 1982, and from 1983 until the present has held the principalship at School No. 20. Her husband is supervisor of continuing education for the City School District. The Rydis live in East Avon.

Mrs. Ridley reflected on some of the changes she has seen since 1959: "The most drastic change has been the non-graded or individualized program which gives children the opportunity to work at their own rate of speed." Another has been in the student make-up of School No. 20 school. When she went there, most of the students were Jewish or Italian. Now the student body is "in a real melting pot" with Puerto Rican, Balk, Yugoslavian and Italian children.

Mrs. Ridley feels she has had good rapport with the community and cooperation from parents. "There may not have been complete agreement with all parents but we have been able to work things out. I hope that I have been able to help teachers, parents and children." Consistency has been one thing that has helped me stem the tide in many challenges that confronted me. "I try to be fair with children. I do have rules and regulations. I talk with students, let them know what they can expect from them and discuss consequences of their behavior." Mrs. Ridley sees the school "as a family of teachers, students and parents trying to work as a family. Just as every small family has their problems, so does No. 20, but we work them out for the benefit of the children."

Mrs. Ridley plans to become more involved in church activities, something she was unable to do before because of school and meetings, travel and spend more time with her husband, and "become a better wife."
CITY MANAGER APPOINTS EQUAL EMPLOYMENT COORDINATOR

City Manager Kermit Hill today announced the appointment of Ms. Dinorah Rudolph as the City's first Equal Employment Coordinator. Ms. Rudolph will coordinate, under the direct supervision of the City Personnel Director, all efforts to provide opportunities for the employment of members of minority groups in City government.

Ms. Rudolph will receive $14,495 a year. Hill said: "Ms. Rudolph brings impressive credentials to this newly created management position and has an excellent background in community work. I am confident she will work effectively and energetically to help minority residents realize every chance to work for the City."

Ms. Rudolph, who is 28, has been employed as Administrator of the Ibero-American Action League, Inc. since July 1969. She is responsible for supervising all programs conducted by the agency, including community relations, employment and education, and has charge of a staff of 50 full-time workers.

From March 1969 to July 1969 she worked for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico as a Migrant Specialist doing liaison between the government of Puerto Rico and upstate farmers and migrants. From September 1968 to April 1969 she was a Social Work Associate at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Northport, New York. She has Bachelor of Political Science degree from Syracuse University and lives at 100 Milburn Road in Rochester. She has been a Social Worker with the government of Puerto Rico and has an excellent background in community relations, employment and education, and has charge of a staff of 50 full-time workers.

Esther Satterfield Recital

Esther Satterfield, whose clear soprano voice performing jazz, rock or spirituals — all with the same easy grace — has moved audiences to standing ovations, will star in her own show at the Eastman Theatre on Saturday, July 7 at 8:15 P.M.

"The Esther Satterfield Show," with Miss Satterfield and Company, will be produced and conducted by Chuck Mangione. It was announced by Original Performances Inc. today.

Esther Satterfield, whose career thus far has embraced clerking in department stores, work in the city manager's office, singing in nightclubs, graduation from the Eastman School of Music, TV shows, teaching music in the city schools, recording as a solo artist on Mercury Records' "Together" album and touring engagements with Chuck Mangione — has managed to balance her role as teacher and performer with that of homemaker.

"I have no desire to get involved in constantly performing," she says. "It would probably disrupt all my ideas about being a wife and mother."

How does she feel about the upcoming concert? "Scared! I think it's really great! I'm enthused by the real challenge of doing a major event such as this concert."

Tickets for "The Esther Satterfield Show" ($5, $4, $3, and $2) are now on sale at Original Performances Inc., 282 Midtown Plaza (on the Terrace Level).

BOARD OF EDUCATION NEWS

The fee for the City School District's popular Guided Observation program will remain at its present level, $8.00 per semester, next year.

The District had considered raising the fee as part of its budget deliberations. However, after study, staff members decided that in terms of cost effectiveness, they could not recommend an increase to the Board of Education.

The few thousand dollars that would be taken in would be at the expense of a loss in participation by families in the low to lower-middle income range, study showed.

The Board heard the staff report at its study session Monday, June 18, and concurred that an increase is not warranted at this time.

Guided Observation is a program for pre-school children and their parents. Its supervisor is Julia Guttman.

Juan Cruz, 24, Portland Parkway, has been appointed the City School District's first Puerto Rican principal.

Cruz, currently assistant principal for instruction at Henry W. Longfellow School No. 36, will become principal of Henry Long School No. 28 in September.

The school, located at 54 Oakman St., has the city's highest percentage of Spanish-surnamed students (46.9%). Its principal for the last 10 years, Letha B. Ridley, retires this month.

Cruz came to the City School District two years ago from Puerto Rico. In Puerto Rico he had had 11 years of experience as an elementary school teacher, two years as a principal, two as a linguistic researcher, and three years as director of student activities at Inter-American University in Arecibo, Puerto Rico.

He is a graduate of the University of Puerto Rico and holds a master's degree in education from the American University in Puerto Rico, and permanent New York State certification in school administration and supervision. He and his wife, Maria, have two children.
