YMCA SPONSORS CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES NOVEMBER 23, 1984

TheYWCA is sponsoring "Fun Day" for a one-day camp for children ages 6 to 12 and "Hilltop Child Care" for children ages 18 months to 6 years on the evening of Thanksgiving, November 23. "Fun Day" offers an entire day of games and movies for youth ages 6 to 12 allowing parents to get a break on holiday shopping and preparation. The cost is $3.50 per hour for regular hours (9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.) and $1.50 per hour for regular hours (9:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m.). YMCA membership is required ($4.00 ages 6-11 or $6.00 ages 12-13) and registration forms and payment must be received by November 17. The YMCA staff and volunteer staff will provide holiday Child Care from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for children 18 months to 5 years in the YMCA Day Care Center. $2.00 per hour per child will be charged and children must be registered by November 17. Both programs will be held at the YMCA and are convenient to downtown shopping. For details, call YMCA Membership services 546-3260.

GENESEE CROSSROADS URBAN LEAGUE

State Commissioner of the Division of Housing and Community Renewal, Frederick Douglass-Leefeltz was in Rochester on October 11th and 12th, and presented Mayor Thomas P. Ryan, Jr., with a "Honorarium" a recognition of his outstanding contribution to the community. The Award recognizes the leadership of the Mayor in the area of urban renewal.

On October 11, 1984 at the Rochester Plaza hotel, Mayor Ryan spoke as well as guests from other places present for enjoyment of the evening and to learn about some important happenings.

The Rochester Association of Black Communicators (R.A.B.C.) presented the Howard Cole Communications Award to Clarence H. Hunter, director of communications and public relations for Rochester Products Division of General Motors.

Hunter, a graduate of New York University and a native of Raleigh, North Carolina. His participation in local organizations includes sitting on the board of directors of the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Management Council, Urban League of Rochester, the United Way of Greater Rochester, and the Teen Center for Alternative Youth Services.

Rev. Benjamin L. Hooks, a lawyer and social minister, has been executive director of the National Association of Colored People since Roy Wilkins' retirement in 1971 was the guest speaker.

On October 11, 1984 at the Rochester Plaza hotel, Mayor Ryan presented the Howard Cole Communications Award to Clarence H. Hunter, director of communications and public relations for Rochester Products Division of General Motors.

The Upper Falls Project is the location of such new developments as the Corning Life Science Park, new School 9 and Recreation Complex, the Corbin Colle Students Center, a new Bell's supermarket and three high-rise apartment buildings which include St. Simon's Terrace, Fluellen Gardens and Fluvanna Gardens. The latter, one of the first black owned building developments outside New York City. The Greater Rochester South Project is the site of the South Wedgewood Shopping Garages and the Convention Center which are under construction.

The only plateau received from the State will be used to create the out- standing debt service incurred in these projects for infrastructure improvements which include new streets, lighting, water mains and sewers.

President's Remarks

Welcome

Denita Banks-Sims, assistant director of corporate and foundation relations, University of Rochester

Susan C. Stahle, President

The Rochester Association of Black Communicators, R.A.B.C., on the threshold of a third anniversary was primarily established to develop a kinship and network of minority communicators in the Rochester area. Our goal is to include facilitating role model relationships with area high school and college students through workshops and speaking engagements, as well as maintaining a scholarship fund.

Additionally, R.A.B.C seeks to honor and celebrate the artistic, scholarly and cultural excellence of our heritage and current events through receptions, benefit performances and public speaking engagements.

We are keenly aware of the recent involvement of blacks in the media, and accept the challenge to extend this involvement to include representation in all aspects of the communications industry.

Keep Smiling

Written by Elsie P. Scott, Jan. 1923

I. When the way is rugged
Keep smiling.
When the hills are rocky
Keep smiling.
Do not give up so quick
The world wants you to stick
Keep smiling.

II. When the day is dreary
Keep smiling.
When your heart is weary
Keep smiling.
There is always a place
For a kind and smiling face
Keep smiling.

III. When your friends forget you
Keep smiling.
When Hard Luck greets you
Keep smiling.
Sunshine follows rain
Joy comes after pain
Keep smiling.

IV. When a fellow frowns,
Keep smiling.
Help him when he’s down
Keep smiling.
As you unto others do.
Double will come back to you.
Keep smiling.

V. Be a friend to someone
Keep smiling.
Someone’s always lonesome
Keep smiling.
Christ is watching you
Be the sunshine in the dew.
Keep smiling.

VI. When you’re all alone
Keep smiling.
When you’re far from home
Keep smiling.
Smiles can win the world they say
Up begin your task today
Keep smiling.

VII. When the snow is falling
Keep smiling.
When the wind is blowing
Sure as shot we’ll happy be
On thru all our life, if we
Keep smiling.
New York, N.Y. — Following the Senate's postponement of the debate and voting on the Civil Rights Act of 1984, Dr. Benjamin L. Hooks, Executive Director of the National Association For The Advancement of Colored People blasted the body as being irresponsible and totally insensitive to affirmative action and civil rights in this country.

In assailing the Senate action, Hooks announced that the Civil Rights Act of 1984 had been ineffectual because of the narrow interpretation of the law. While the collectivity of a citizenry and the Congress have overturned the narrow interpretation of the law, the proposed legislation would not break new ground and would not guarantee equal rights and equal opportunities for all.

Hooks stated, "This act was the most important civil rights measure before Congress. This Senate action is indefinitely craven. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 did not break new ground and would not have made new law," Hooks continued, "however the rights of blacks, other minorities, women, the disabled and the elderly cannot be taken away and those who would deny equal rights and equal opportunities will not be forgotten. We have a voice and we have a vote."

The proposed legislation would have overturned the narrow interpretation of the Grove City College decision affecting the scope of coverage in Title IX of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 regarding race and national origin, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 concerning the disabled and the Age Discrimination Act of 1967. It would have however reaffirmed 20 years of practice consistent with the intent of these important laws.

The House of Representativeness failed to act in accordance with this mandate in their reaffirmation of national policy that federal tax payers in their states pay taxes on the basis of race, national origin, sex, disability, or age.

Hooks further announced that the NAACP would begin immediately the distribution of individual report cards on each member of Congress highlighting the crucial vote on the 1984 Civil Rights Act and an analysis of the 1984 election platforms. These materials are expected to reach NAACP units in over 2000 communities.

Loose Leaf Season

The City's Department of Environmental Services will conduct its annual fall leaf collection operations from Monday, Oct. 22 through Friday, Nov. 30. To be assured of leaf removal by the City, the department urges citizens to bag leaves and place them between the curb and sidewalk for pick-up with trash on their regular refuse collection days.

While refuse collection may be slower as the season progresses, bagged leaves will be disposed of more quickly than loose leaves.

During this six-week period, loose leaves raked between the curb and sidewalk will be collected on an irregular basis as City crews circulate through neighborhoods with vacuum-equipped trucks; the City only guarantees one loose leaf collection per street. However, bagged leaves are guaranteed to be picked up on regular refuse collection days throughout the season.

Citizens are reminded not to rake loose piles of leaves into streets as they may clog gutters and result in flooding conditions, and may create potential hazards for drivers, and children who play in leaves left in the street.

After Nov. 30 only bagged leaves will be picked up by City crews.

The City again is offering free truckloads of leaves for composting to anyone living within a mile radius of the city limits. (A truckload of leaves weighs approximately 12 tons.)

To request free leaves or for further information on leaf collection, call the City's Department of Environmental Services at 428-6990 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Urban League of Rochester, N.Y., Inc. has announced the recipient of the 1984 Charles T. Lumsford Award, presented at the League's Equal Opportunity Day Dinner on Monday evening, October 30, at the Madison Hall Restaurant.

The award was established in 1979 to commemorate the humanitarian contributions to the community by Dr. Charles T. Lumsford, Rochester's first black physician and a distinguished citizen of Rochester for the past sixty years. The 1984 award will be presented posthumously to Patricia C. Thompson, one of the first women to be named a sergeant in the Rochester Police Department. Mrs. Thompson, who died last July at the age of 75, was also a distinguished community leader a corporate executive and a graduate of the Syracuse University School of Law.

William A. Johnson, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer of the Urban League, said the selection committee felt that Mrs. Thompson had done much to advance the status of minorities and improve the general quality of life in the community.

"The Lumsford award recognizes individuals who have exhibited exceptional skill, talent, leadership, vision and resourcefulness in using the resources of the community to help those in need," Johnson said.

An example of this is the campaign to get Rochester adopted in 1962 to increase the number of minority students on campus. As an active alumna, Mrs. Thompson agreed to chair the Committee on Minority Enrollment and to serve on the steering committee of the Campaign for Admissions. Out of these efforts grew the University of Rochester-Urban League scholarship program, which operates nationwide, and which has attracted more than two dozen minority students to the University in two years.

"Pat Thompson worked on this project until her illness prevented her from doing so. The success of this program in the years to come will be a living memorial to her patience and tenacity," said Johnson.

"We are deeply impressed by the dedication of Patricia Thompson to the Urban League," Johnson said.

As police officer for more than ten years, she rose to the rank of sergeant and was especially noted for her sensitivity in dealing with youth. At one point, she was named administrativedirector ofaprogram known as "Items On Patrol," which was designed to narrow the gap between police and public education. In that job, she directed teenagers who were paid $1.25 an hour to make community recreation facilities to curb vandalism and keep order.

In the early 1970s, she left the Police Department to become the director of the Monroe County Bar Association's Pro-Per Trial Release Program. Also that year, she was one of the first women to be named a director of the Rochester Community Chest.

In the mid-1970s, she attended Syracuse University Law School, graduating in 1979. She served briefly as a legal law firm and resumed a heavy schedule of volunteer activities. In 1979, she accepted a job with the Eastman Kodak Company.

Her many community activities included membership on the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Area Educational Television Association, the City Committee of the YWCA, the Board of Directors of the Montgomery Neighborhood Center and the Urban Affairs Committee of the Jewish Community Council.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Thompson was Manager of the Eastman Kodak Company and chairperson of the Monroe County Human Relations Commission.

Accepting the Lumsford Award on behalf of her daughter, Todne J. Thompson, was Mr. Thompson's daughter, Todne J. Thompson. The Equal Opportunity Day Dinner was held at 6:30 p.m. on Monday evening, preceded by a 5:30 p.m. social hour. Keynote speaker was Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, of Baltimore, a member of the Congressional Black Caucus and the originator of important legislation affecting black business. Motor Corporation has been honored for outstanding support of Urban League programs over a period of several years, in particular for their contribution to high school students interested in the medical field, Mrs. Thompson said.

"This is highly consistent with Eltrec's unique mission, which we've had for 15 years, to provide job opportunities to the minority disadvantages," Johnson said.

Eltrec Industries, a minority-owned firm, was recognized for its outstanding support of Urban League programs. Eltrec was a founding sponsor of the League's Education & Black Scholars and has also participated in the Urban League Career Experience Program, hiring a number of unemployed youths and providing them with work experience and skills training.

"This is highly consistent with Eltrec's unique mission, over the past 15 years, to provide job opportunities to the minority disadvantaged," Johnson said.
